THE ARISTOCRAT; THE DEMOCRAT

W. J. BRYAN SHOWS DIFFERENCE IN VIEWPOINTS.

CHIEF SPEAKER AT BANQUET

ISSUES OF DAY DISCUSSED BY LEADING DEMOCRATS.

FINANCIAL CRISIS EXPLAINED

Had Republican Leaders Tried to Secure Depositors Instead of Increase Profits of Bankers There Would Have Been No Panic, Says He.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The distinction between the aristocrat and the democrat [illegible] the theme of a speech delivered here tonight by W. J. Bryan. Mr. Bryan was the chief guest at the Jackson banquet of the Jefferson club. Prominent party men from several western states were present, the occasion being generally regarded as the formal opening of Mr. Bryan's campaign for the Democratic nomination for the presidency at the Democratic convention next July. Among the other speakers were Adlai Stevenson, former vice president of Benjamin Fleming, United States Senator W. J. Stone of Missouri.

The speakers generally confined themselves to issues of the day. Plans for party harmony were frequent. Previous to the banquet, most of the leaders had conferred with Mr. Bryan, who arrived early in the morning, and spent the day with members of the club. United States Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas was scheduled for a speech, but was not present. Despite the hours in the program, the proceedings were so lengthy that it was past midnight before Mr. Bryan was called upon. He said in part:

Difference in Point of View.

The questions which involve a discussion of the relative specific of the nation and the state, bring out the distinction in the point of view of the aristocrat and the democrat. The aristocrat wants to get the government as far away from the people as possible, the democrat desires to bring the government as near the people as possible. The aristocrat would substitute national principles for state ones, because predatory wealth can protect itself from national legislation more easily than from state legislation; the democrat would add the national remedy to the state remedy and thus give the people the protection of both the state and federal governments. The labor question is considered from the standpoint. The aristocrat thinks only of the large employers; the Democrat of the army of employes and of the general public which is inconvenienced by any disruption of friendly relations between employer and employe.

The question of imperialism, in like manner, presents the difference in viewpoint. The imperialist thinks more of the extension of commerce than of the preservation of the ideal of self-government, and he thinks only of the benefits that might come to the comparative few. The Democrat knows that trade purchased at the cannon's mouth costs more than its worth, and that the cost falls upon all the people while the profits accrue to but a few.

Discusses Financial Trouble.

And so, whatever question we take up, we find that everything depends upon the point of view from which we examine the question, and there is no better illustration of this than can be found in the financial stringency through which we are passing. The Republican leaders at once rush to the rescue of the banks, after those banks had brought the stringency upon the country by their unbusinesslike methods. The banks of the country were distributed against in favor of the banks of New York city, and after the government had exhausted the available surplus

SCHMITZ REGIME WIPED OUT

Last of Old Administration Cleaned Out of Municipal Government of Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—The last remnants of the Schmitz administration, under which this community suffered for six years, were cleaned out of the city government today. Not one vestige of the Schmitz or Ruef influence remains in the municipal administration, which began today, for even the two officials elected on the McCarty ticket, the treasurer and the county clerk, have abandoned the standard that flew from the county jail. Every other office in the city, including a complete board of supervisors, is occupied by men elected on the Democratic and Good Government tickets. The appointive offices were likewise filled by officials of Mayor Taylor's choices, or men selected by the committees he named.

Mayor Taylor, in his address of welcome to the new board of supervisors, devoted considerable attention to the necessity of an auxiliary water system. He also dwelt upon street improvement and urged the rapid rehabilitation of public buildings. He thought it was high time that the city did its part in the work of rehabilitation and hoped that as these structures would be raised for generations to come that their architectural beauty and adornment would not be sacrificed for mere utility.

RECEIVERS FOR C. G. W. ROAD

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN UNABLE TO PAY DEBTS.

STRIKE CAUSE OF DIFFICULTY

PETITION FILED ON BEHALF OF STOCKHOLDERS.

ROAD'S OBLIGATIONS LARGE

More Than Ten Million Dollars in Debts Falling Due Within Next Four Years—Road Holds Interests in Other Corporations.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 8.—Judge Walter H. Sanborn of the United States circuit court today appointed A. B. Stickney and Charles H. E. Smith, both residents of St. Paul, receivers for the Chicago Great Western railroad. A. B. Stickney is now president of the road. The firm of Kellogg and Severance of St. Paul was appointed attorneys for the receivers.

The appointment of receivers followed inability of the company to meet obligations falling due in 1908 and failure to secure an extension of the obligations. Loss as a result of the boilermakers strike of last fall is given as a partial cause for the financial straits of the road. It was also pointed out in the proceedings today that during the last 10 years the road has spent $19,000,000 in reconstruction.

On Behalf of Stockholders.

A petition for a receivership was filed on behalf of the stockholders and the finance committee by John A. Humbrey of Minnesota, George F. Miere of New York and Ward Cummings and Alexander Wallace of Great Britain.

As soon as the petition for the complainant had been filed, an answer was filed on behalf of the board of directors, who met today and voted to become a party to the receivership proceedings. These are the preferred "A" and the debenture stock, each of which represented 50 per cent of the original mortgage bonds.

"The preferences of these two classes of stock are secured by a trust deed with the Manhattan Trust company of New York. There will be a default in the payments of these obligations January 15."

Road Owes Large Sums.

Mr. Kellogg said that the Great Western owes $10,653,411 now due or falling due within the next four years, of which notes to the amount of $545,000 have gone to protest.

"The sum, exceeding $10,000,000," continued Mr. Kellogg, "is part of $19,000,000 spent by the Great Western in the last ten years, and for the most part in the last five years, in rebuilding the road. New steel has been laid, double tracks have been built, grades have been reduced, and new bridges and terminals have been constructed. There was due last month notes to the amount of $50,000 and there will be due during the rest of January notes aggregating £53,200 pounds sterling, while the total amount of obligations due during 1908 is $3,342,545."

Mr. Kellogg further said that the Great Western, which is an Illinois corporation, owns in fee without mortgage, lines of railroads in Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Missouri. It also owns a terminal lease of a line from St. Paul to Minneapolis.

Interested in Other Lines.

In addition, the Great Western owns all the stock of and operates the Mason City and Fort Dodge railroad, a line about 400 miles long. This line is mortgaged for $12,000,000, 62 per cent of its cost. The Great Western also has a lease of this line by the terms of which the Great Western is to guarantee the interest on the bond. The Chicago Great Western places in a trust fund 80 per cent of the joint earnings of the Great Western and the Mason City and Fort Dodge, and out of this trust fund the Great Western pays the operating expenses of the Mason City road, the remainder of the trust fund going to guarantee the future interest of the $12,000,000 bonds. The Great Western, however, has the use of this accumulating interest fund, and there is now in the trust fund $1,269,624. The Great Western also owns stock under similar conditions of the Wisconsin, Minnesota and Pacific, which is bonded to the extent of $5,811,000. Fifty per cent of the joint earnings of this road go into the trust fund in which there is now available $489,228.

The Great Western also owns the stock of the Dekalb and Great Western, capitalized at $100,000.

Mr. Kellogg said that under the laws of the states in which the Great Western operates, creditors might secure an attachment on its property, thus wrecking the road and preventing it from fulfilling its obligations to the public.

Primarily, as this showed, the possibility that it might be prevented from performing its functions as a common carrier, Judge Sanborn [illegible] the order for the appointment of receivers. [illegible] of $70,000 [illegible]

WALSH ON THE STAND

CHICAGO BANKER TESTIFIES IN OWN BEHALF.

Admits That He Personally Engineered Loans of Millions of Dollars to Railroads and Others.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—John R. Walsh, in his first public explanation of the affairs of the Chicago National bank, since its close by the bank examiners, took the witness stand today in the United States district court to defend himself against charges of misapplying funds of the institution.

He admitted that he had personally engineered the loans of millions of dollars to the railroads and other enterprises in which he held large blocks of stock. He also acknowledged that the system of memorandum notes used in the bank, was his.

He denied, however, that he undertook these transactions with any thought of personal gain, claiming that the interests of the bank and its allied institutions, the Equitable Trust company and the Home Savings bank, were his chief concern.

Mr. Walsh was on the stand for four hours. Direct examination of the witness was still in progress when court adjourned.

The expectation that Mr. Walsh would testify, drew a large crowd to the court room, and every seat was filled soon after he took the stand. Although he had been one of Chicago's leading citizens for years, he has appeared in public comparatively few times, and has seldom, if ever, spoken in public. This was evident when the questioning began today, for his replies were given in so low a tone that they were scarcely audible to the attorneys, and he was admonished to speak louder several times by his own counsel. With this exception, the witness gave little indication of either his 70 years or the strain of the long trial.

SUSPECTED OF MURDER

ITALIAN TRUCK FARMER MAY HAVE KILLED FOUR.

Portions of Human Bodies Found Near Arkansas River Quest Made at Florence.

FLORENCE, Colo., Jan. 8.—Anton Bavori, an Italian truck farmer, is under arrest on suspicion of killing three people, and perhaps four. Mrs. Frank Palmetto, Dominick and Joseph Minchello, brothers, and Ercola Buffetti are missing.

Portions of human bodies were found today near the Arkansas river, and it is feared that all four of the missing people have been murdered and their bodies cut up and thrown into the river.

An axe covered with blood, found in his hut, and the statement of a Mexican washerwoman, that she yesterday washed for Bavori a suit of clothes, which were literally covered with blood, are some of the clues that point to foul [illegible]

Robbery and revenge are believed to be the motives of the suspected murders.

There is talk of mob violence, but the sheriff says he will protect his prisoner.

300 LIVES ARE LOST IN FIRE

Chinese Caught in Restaurant at Wedding Feast.—Building Collapses Result of Panic.

VICTORIA, Jan. 8.—Mail advices from south China tell of a terrible fire at Canton, where 300 lives were lost in the burning of a restaurant. Chinese recently returned from California, bringing a cinematograph machine, gave an exhibition at a wedding feast at the Chol Chan restaurant. Several hundred Chinese had crowded into the place out of curiosity, packing it tightly when the film took fire. There was a panic, during which the burning building collapsed.

CORAY WANTS SALARY

FORMER BUILDING INSPECTOR SUES THE CITY.

Has Never Been Paid for Superintending Construction of City Hall; Demands $2,360.

E. G. Coray, former building inspector, against whom there are two suits pending in the district court on the charge of misappropriation of city funds, late yesterday afternoon filed suit in the district court against the city of Colorado Springs for the recovery of $2,360, which he alleges to be due him as salary for his services as superintendent of the construction of the city hall.

Coray alleges, in his complaint, that he began work as superintendent of the construction of the city hall under orders from the City Council, on May 6, 1902, and that he continued in these duties for a period of 295 days, or until April 26, 1903, upon which date his resignation was accepted. At the rate of $8 a day, he claims that $2,360 is due him, of which amount he has never been able to collect a cent from the city. He asks for judgment in this amount, with interest at 8 per cent.

Coray was appointed building inspector, on April 11, 1902, and his resignation a little more than a year later came as the result of charges of neglect of duty and misappropriation of funds which he had collected through the building inspector's office. Suits were brought against him in the total sum of $2,331.36, the aggregate of four different counts, the various sums being $713.50, $191, $1,386.73, and $750.67. These suits were brought in the district court under date of August 27 and September 1, 1903, and have been in court ever since without final settlement. They were finally placed in the hands of Referee J. W. D. Bovell, whose report has been filed.

ONLY A PIPE DREAM

NO TROUBLE LIKELY BETWEEN JAPAN AND U. S.

Japanese Ambassador to France Talks Officially—French Press Still Dealing in Sensations.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The Gaulois publishes an interview this morning with Baron Kurino, Japanese ambassador to France, in which he said that he could state officially that Japan had no aggressive intentions towards the United States. He had heard that a fable was being circulated to the effect that the Japanese fleet was waiting around the cape for an opportunity to pounce upon the American fleet. He could only say, however, that it was a pleasant invention of amateur politicians who dispose of the fates of empires in their smoking rooms after dinner.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The sensational [illegible] tion of the French press continues to dwell upon the probabilities of a clash between Japan and the United States. La Presse today publishes a long interview with Jacques Flach, the historian and professor in the College of France, who declares his belief that a conflict is certain for the reason that Japan seeks war. He advises the American fleet to be on the watch for a sudden Japanese descent, and asks: "Who knows if the attack made by the Japanese on the Russian ships at Chemulpo will not be repeated upon the American ships."

Continuing, M. Flach advises Great Britain and France to intervene and put an end to the trouble before it is too late.

The Journal Des Debats, a more conservative paper, prefaces a long editorial with the remark that a conflict is improbable, but it then proceeds to outline the circumstances which appear to favor a rupture. In the event of a clash, this paper believes that Japan will try to seize Hawaii as the territorial key to the situation.

FAILURES EXPLAINED

DEMOCRATS HAVE BEEN TOO WIDELY DIVIDED.

To Win, Party Must Stand Firmly by Democratic Principles, Declares M. J. O'Brien.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Speaking to the topic, "Why Is the Democratic Party Divided?" Morgan J. O'Brien, ex-justice of the appellate division of the New York supreme court, who was the guest of the National Democratic club tonight, declared that if the causes that have divided the party were summarized it would be found "that they have been due to our failure to stand firmly together for Democratic principles; to a preference shown by some for popular sentiment, as contrasted with sound doctrine, and to a preference for men rather than a reverence for party tradition."

Grover Cleveland, who was unable to be present, sent his compliments in a letter in which he expressed the conviction that the attention concerning the people had directed their attention anew to their relief from conditions that alarmed and startled them than to empty satisfaction of partisan advantage.

Ex-Justice O'Brien, after referring in highly complimentary terms to Mr. Cleveland and by inference to Alton B. Parker as "an ideal candidate," said:

"The aims and principles of the party have been so frequently stated in platforms and [illegible] so well [illegible] in Jefferson's that in general adoption that it is unnecessary to repeat them at length; but in [illegible] it is proper to note that whenever the party has stood firmly and [illegible] principles we have [illegible] a defeat, and it has [illegible] that the party has [illegible] of the hope that [illegible] follows [illegible]

CONTROL GOES TO THE GOULDS

F. A. HEINZE UNABLE TO MEET PAYMENTS.

LOSES HIS STOCK IN BANK

MAGNATE IS CHARGED WITH OVERCERTIFICATION.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN COURT

Others Besides Heinze, It Is Stated, May Be Forced to Answer Similar Charge Before Federal Grand Jury—Investigation Not Finished.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Unable to meet payments due on his stock in the institution today, F. Augustus Heinze lost control of the Mercantile National bank, because of the conduct of which its president had brought about his arraignment in the United States circuit court earlier in the day on charges of overcertification.

One year ago, Heinze bought a controlling interest from the Goulds, with whom he pledged his holdings as security for his promise to pay for them in full within one year. This loan of $1,200,000 was due today to Edwin Gould and William Nelson Cromwell, who was a member of the Gould party in the bank before the Mercantile was added to the Heinze-Morse-Thomas chain of financial houses. Up to the last moment allowed him, Heinze struggled to meet his obligations, and so to retain his banking interests.

Failed to Meet Obligations.

His failure was chronicled in the following statement issued by Mr. Cromwell after an afternoon's conference of the parties concerned:

"The Heinze stock in the Mercantile National bank has been acquired by Mr. Gould in a satisfactory arrangement. Mr. Heinze was given every chance to pay for the stock, but because of his inability to do so in the time agreed upon, we have been forced to take it over."

Later, Mr. Cromwell added that the Gould interests would [illegible] proper place in the bank board at the meeting on January 14. This implies that the [illegible] Heinze directors will then retire.

This morning, Mr. Heinze, now under bail consequent upon an indictment by the federal grand jury on a charge of overcertifying checks of his brother's brokerage firm involving $360,000, was arraigned before Judge Chatfield. A plea of not guilty was returned and permission was had to alter or withdraw it, or to make any other desired motions later. An adjournment of the case was ordered until January 29, when the final plea will be made. The bail of $50,000 was continued.

Federal Authorities Active.

It was reported today that other men, equally as prominent as Heinze in Wall Street operations, were to be called before the federal authorities to plead to similar indictments. Who they are or when their arrests are to be expected, could not be learned at the United States attorney's office. It is known that the grand jury is not yet through with its inquiry into certain banking conditions exposed by the recent financial flurry. United States District Attorney Stimson, who was seen after the Heinze arraignment, said:

"It would be improper for me to reveal the evidence I have, lest I give my case away, but I can say that the investigation is not yet over."

Upon leaving the federal building, Heinze had nothing to say further than that he would not leave the city until a disposition of his case had been made.

Soon afterward, accompanied by his counsel, Edward Lauterbach, Heinze joined Edwin Gould and Nelson Cromwell in the conference which ended in his returning to them the bank shares for which he was unable to pay. It is said that the transaction was not concluded until every means by which Heinze might have held his interest had been exhausted. After the collapse of the United Copper pool and the clearing house investigation of the Mercantile bank, Heinze resigned the president and directors likewise resigned. The copper magnate declared that he would still hold his stock.

Goulds Again in Control.

The bank, however, had been adversely affected by the trouble, and it was generally believed that a way would be found again to bring it under the Gould influence. This opportunity came today. A new directorate, practically installing the former management, is now expected to restore the institution to its old-time standing. For years the bank had been under the control of the Gould interests, and then Heinze, who was branching out as a banker, and with associates striving to secure direction of a number of local banks, acquired considerable holdings in the institution. He succeeded when he obtained about 4,000 shares of the stock from Gould and 1,111 from W. N. Cromwell. It was [illegible] at the time that the [illegible] paid part cash and gave his notes for the remainder. The [illegible] it is said, run for six months, when they are due. [illegible]

THAW JURY NOW HALF COMPLETED

OATH OF SERVICE ADMINISTERED TO SIX MEN.

ORIGINAL VENIRE EXHAUSTED

200 ADDITIONAL TALESMEN ORDERED TO REPORT.

DEFENSE SPRINGS SURPRISE

Several Expert Witnesses, Retained by Jerome for First Trial, Now Under Subpoena by Other Side Case Will Require Delicate Handling.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The work of securing a jury to try Harry K. Thaw a second time for killing Stanford White was half completed when court adjourned shortly before 6 o'clock tonight. The original venire of 300 special service jurors had been exhausted at that hour, and the customary night sitting was not held. Two hundred additional talesmen have been ordered to report tomorrow. The oath of service was administered to three men, making six in all, who have been finally accepted. Three provisional jurors were also in the box at the close of the day's session, but they are still subject to peremptory challenges. Another series of these arbitrary removals reduced the panel when all 12 seats had been filled at 4 o'clock, and six chairs were left vacant when it was finished. The defense has now exercised 11 of its 30 challenges, and the prosecution eight.

Jurors Selected.

The sworn jurors, in their respective positions, are:

CHARLES E. GREMMELLS, ship broker, foreman.
ARTHUR R. NAETHING, baker.
GEORGE W. CARY, dry goods.
GEORGE C. RUPPRECHT, salesman.
JOHN H. HOLBERT, mineral waters.
DAVID E. ARROWSMITH, manager.

The provisional jurors are:
William McAdie, salesman.
George M. Metz, judge.
James S. Davidson, clerk.

Plan New to New York's Courts.

The plan of maintaining both permanent and temporary jurors in the trial panel, until 12 men have finally been selected for service, is unique in the New York courts and has imposed a double duty upon the guards, who are directed nightly to keep the sworn jurors and the provisional ones separate.

In the selection of the jury, Martin W. Littleton, Thaw's senior counsel, is so conducting his examination of talesmen as to impress upon them that should the defense introduce evidence tending to show that Thaw was insane at the time of the Madison Square Roof Garden tragedy, the burden of proof will fall upon the shoulders of the district attorney and he must prove beyond all reasonable doubt that the defendant was legally sane. This principle of law was so clearly enunciated at the former trial.

Defense Springs Surprise.

Thaw's attorneys today furnished the first big surprise of this trial by admitting that several of the expert witnesses who were retained by the district attorney for the first trial and who declared, when Mr. Jerome made application for a lunacy commission, that, in their opinion, Thaw was sane, do not know the nature of the proceedings against him and [illegible]

EAST RIVER TUNNEL OPENED

Will Serve to Relieve Brooklyn Bridge Crush.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The first of the series of tunnels under the waters that divide Manhattan from Brooklyn on the one side and from New Jersey on the other, was opened for traffic late today, when the initial passenger train left the Bowling Green station of the interborough subway, run down the inclined tracks of the Battery far below the surface of East river, and went the length of the long steel double tube which pierces the river to Brooklyn.

The opening of this tunnel, which is in effect the extending of the present subway system to Brooklyn, is regarded as a long step toward the solution of the transportation problem of New York. The opening of the Battery tunnel will serve in relieving, to some extent, the Brooklyn bridge crush by depositing thousands from the human tide that pours each day in and out of the tunnel entrance of that bridge.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

According to a notice filed by the plaintiff's attorneys, Orr and Cunningham, the defendant's motion for a new trial in the case of Bernard Fuller vs. F. A. Whittlesey will be called for hearing next Monday. Fuller was recently awarded damages for the burning of property in Colorado City through the negligence of Whittlesey in dumping hot ashes.

A squabble over the lease on the rooming house at 115 East Cucharas street resulted in the bringing of the case into Justice Ruby's court. J. M. Harding, the tenant, claims to have a lease from year to year, while the owner, Ethel Keys, declares that it is only from month to month. After the hearing of the arguments the judge took the case under consideration to determine the law on the point.

Upon the complaint of Mamie Vickers, a warrant was sworn out yesterday, charging her husband with desertion. She declares that her spouse has not only left her, but has hidden her trunks and clothes.

Mame Recker and Maggie Lorraine, both colored, have been arrested on the charge of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Laura Redmond, that they have been trying to steal the love of her husband. The women will be given a hearing in Justice Dunnington's court.

Three informations against Noble Foss were filed in the district court yesterday charging him with statutory crimes against the Carpenter and Lucas children. They were signed by the parents of the children. The original complaint was sworn to by Probation Officer Reasoner. The first trial will be heard tomorrow in Justice Dunnington's court.

Charles Dillingham rarely sends one of his attractions to this city or to this territory, but it seems as if he would do so for whenever one of his productions does visit the west it always draws large audiences. The Opera House last evening was packed to the doors when Frank Daniels appeared in "The Tattooed Man."

"The Tattooed Man" is by Victor Herbert, Harry B. Smith and A. N. Fowler, the last a name new to the realm of musical comedy. "The Tattooed Man" does not contain any songs that are likely to become overpopular tunes, but the orchestra showed more care than is usually paid to that body. There were some clever lines and a plot, but the plot did not build the pretty girls when they wanted to sing and dance.

The company was one of high merit. Frank Daniels is Frank Daniels, and that is about all one can say of him. He is funny, it takes but one look at him to establish that fact. He has two very expressive eyebrows and a face that defuses to be described. His concerns between the two acts and his time-killing effort while he is waiting for the sun to eclipse, were extremely funny. William Danforth, in the role of Abdallah, the Arab chief, was especially pleasing for he did sing, a thing which is unusual for a member of a musical comedy company to do. Harry Clark, who makes up and did some clever imitations of James T. Powers, Sam Bernard, Montgomery and Stone and George M. Cohan, Julia Brewer, the belle of the performance, has an extra voice for the musical comedy stage but was weak in her acting. Norma Kopp, as Alma, the daughter of Omar, was entirely satisfactory, the only of her appearance, in the role.

Louise Sylvester, as Fatima, a part created by Max Vokes, was the belle of the entire supporting company. She was exceedingly clever as the wall flower, and did one song, "Nobody Loves Me," so well that she received several encores.

The chorus was excellent in both voice and looks. It could sing, and did sing the music written for it better than any chorus heard this season. Besides this it was a pretty chorus, all the members being handsome, in the usual scraggy looking collection as is the custom of some managers to send out in this territory. The play was well staged, especially the drop scene in the rear, showing the castle and sea in the distance. As a whole, the production was the most satisfactory musical comedy seen here this season.

SUITS AGAINST RAILROADS

Will Be Filed for Alleged Violations of Safety Appliance Law—Many Roads to Suffer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Attorney General Bonaparte today directed the various United States attorneys to institute suits against a large number of railroad companies to recover penalties incurred by them for alleged violations of the safety appliance law. The facts upon which these prosecutions are based were reported to the Interstate commerce commission by its inspectors of safety appliances.

Among the roads are:

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, 11 violations; Butte County railroad, 11; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, 5; Denver & Rio Grande, 8; Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, 6; Idaho Northern, 2; Great Northern, 2; Northern Pacific, 26; Oregon Short Line, 2; Southern Pacific, 10; Butte, Anaconda & Pacific; Missouri, Kansas & Texas; Oregon Railroad & Navigating company and Salt Lake & Ogden, one each.

The suits about to be brought will be in such form that in case of adverse decision the rights of the United States in this respect can be exercised and a final determination secured of the question involved.

ROBBERS CAUGHT RED HANDED

Surprised in Act of Blowing Open the Safe of Grocery Store in Searchlight, Nev.

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev., Jan. 8.—Caught in the act of blowing open the safe of the Brown Grocery company store at 2:30 o'clock this morning, William McAvey, Thomas Nolan and William Kellogg, the latter two miners from Goldfield, engaged in a running pistol fight with Deputy Otto Bodie and Jean Conant, employes of the store. The men were traced to a room in the Star lodging house. The officers forced open the door of the room and found all three prisoners fully dressed, pretending drunkenness. A search of the room revealed a complete outfit of burglars' tools, files, cold chisels, and a bottle of nitro-glycerine.

When caught, the robbers had already blown open the outer door of the safe and secured $350, and were preparing to blow open the door of the strong box, which contained over $3,000. Of the stolen money, $345 has been recovered.

WILL MEET AMERICAN FLEET

Division of Brazilian Navy Sent to Welcome U. S. Jackies.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 8.—A division of the Brazilian navy, composed of the cruisers Barroso, Tupy, Tamoyo and Carlos Gomez, will leave Rio Janeiro tomorrow for the high seas. It will meet the American fleet at Cape Frio and welcome its arrival in Brazilian waters with salutes. The American vessels will then be escorted into the harbor here. They will probably anchor some time on Saturday.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 8.—Ex-Governor Horace Boies, who has been ill with pneumonia at a hospital here, is now regarded as completely out of danger if no relapse occurs. He sat up a short time today.

to elect the directorate. Both Morse and the Thomases are supposed to have already disposed of their interest.

Relations Pleasant.

Concerning a report that Heinze and Morse had a misunderstanding over the defeated bull campaign in United Copper, which was about to culminate in a lawsuit, John C. Tomlinson, personal counsel to Heinze, said tonight: "No papers have been drawn." It is true that there has been a general disposition of Mr. Heinze's affairs, but no action in any direction has been taken. Heinze and Morse have been most pleasant."

Discussing today's developments informally tonight, Mr. Cromwell said: "Now that Mr. Heinze no longer has anything to do with the institution in an official capacity, we felt it to be our duty to reconstruct the bank. It is now our intention to proceed to regain the ground that it had. It has always been a good and conservative institution with an excellent business, and we believe that it will recover within a short time under the interests who now have control. There can be no more talk about the possible liquidation of the bank."

entirely incapable of distinguishing right from wrong, and that in their opinion Thaw was suffering at the time of the inquiry from an incurable form of insanity.

Those same doctors, however, previously testified on the witness stand, in response to Mr. Jerome's famous hypothetical question, that they believed Thaw knew what he was about when he shot and killed Stanford White. This move, it is said, is expected by the defense to block the prosecution from putting doctors on the stand, and it is taken by some as showing a determination not to have Thaw convicted, even with the danger of a stay in the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan as the alternative. The other six who were the mainstay of the prosecution at the first trial, were Dorothy William Mahon, Carlos MacDonald and Alice Fine. They were present at the inquiry beginning from the very first day, and their absence this year has been commented upon.

Will Require Delicate Handling.

The defense in the present trial, insanity at the time White was killed, in making out their case, the defense will need to exercise delicate handling of it to show that Thaw was so deranged at the time as not to know the nature or quality of his act, and to show at the same time that he is now mentally sound.

If they are placed on to stand Mr. Littleton and Mr. Shaw from their part, [illegible] the opinion that Thaw was sane [illegible] and they endeavor to bring all his actions as to the defendant's mental condition to the dangerous period of the crime. If successful in this, the defense would force a trial of the case solely on the ground of Thaw's mental condition in the summer of 1906.

This [illegible] would force District Attorney Jerome again to apply for a lunacy commission, and should [illegible] attorneys are contemplating [illegible] to establish his claim of present sanity before such a board.

ARREST NOTORIOUS BRIGAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—After a penniless march of nearly two years, Don Janoff Pecron, alleged to be a notorious Russian brigand, who is wanted for murder, arson and many robberies, in Russia, was captured here today. He was arrested on complaint of the Russian consul general and held to undergo examination.

Some persons cannot even attend church, theaters, ride on cars, or on the water, or go where there is the least excitement without an attack. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, taken as directed will stop the pain. To avoid suffering take one as soon as you feel an attack coming on. Your druggist can tell you of many who would not be without them.

"I have been troubled with severe headaches for many years. I began to use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. It is the only remedy that has given me or my family any relief. I do not now have such spells, because when I feel one coming on I immediately take two of the tablets, never more than one is required; they are so effective, and I appreciate them so thoroughly I always have them with me. My wife and family always use them, cannot do without them."

Country Ripe for Change.

The country is ripe for the application of Democratic principles to government, and all that is necessary is for the Democratic party to convince the people that it will be a safe democratic administration with power.

Will the Democratic party be democratic? Let it consider the public good and it will be, and we shall have a victory which will be fruitful in blessings to every part of the country and to every element of our population.

Mr. Stevenson spoke earlier in the evening. He said in part:

"We enter upon the presidential contest of 1908 with splendid prospects for success. The skies are bright, the omens all auspicious, with the living issues antagonistic to trusts, tariff reform, right economy in public expenditure, honest methods in all departments of the public service. A further recognition of the true functions of the separate departments of the government, a return from hazardous experiment in administration to the safe pathway of the fathers—with these will to the foremost, the hour of Democratic opportunity has come."

COMPROMISE EFFECTED

Gloom of Recent Rental Strikes in New York Dispelled.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The gloom of the recent rental strikers was turned to joy today when the large number of evictions threatened by the landlords, when they had warrants issued, proved to dwindle materially. It was difficult to get marshals to handle those that were issued. They said they were busy with other things.

Many landlords too, settled with their tenants rather than pay the cost of their eviction, and many tenants, frightened by the action of the court, agreed to accept smaller reductions than those first demanded. Many cases were compromised in this way. In other cases, tenants paid up the full amount demanded, but there were few of these cases, and in most instances it was the landlords who yielded.

Thirty-six settlements were reported at Socialist headquarters. The concessions in these cases varied from 50 cents to $2.00.

Many of the strikers, anticipating the service of dispossess warrants, moved into Brownsville section of Brooklyn, which is largely populated by Jews.

Havemeyer Millions to Remain at Home.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—It was learned today from sources supposed well informed that members of his family are the only beneficiaries under the will of the late Henry O. Havemeyer, head of the American Sugar Refining company. Mr. Havemeyer died last month at his country place on Long Island, and his will is to be filed soon in New York county. His estate is variously estimated at from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000.

BANQUET TO EDITORS

Democratic Newspaper Men Given a Spread at the Albany.

DENVER, Jan. 8.—The Democratic state advisory committee tendered a banquet to Democratic editors of the state at the Albany hotel tonight. Edward Keating, managing editor of the Rocky Mountain News, acted as toastmaster. A number of speeches were made, all optimistic of the success of the party in the next campaign. During the progress of the banquet, former Governor Thomas, who had just returned from the east, entered the banquet room and was given a hearty reception. Among the speakers were

HON. JAMES P. CLARKE,

Representing the State of Arkansas in the National Senate.

G. Mack Mills of Fort Collins; H. J. Holmes of Glenwood Springs; H. F. Lake of Gunnison; L. C. Paddock of Boulder; G. E. Hosmer of Fort Morgan and E. E. Beckwith of Longmont.

Colonel H. E. Montgomery, National Committeeman Mullins and former Senators Bailey and Rush, were also guests. At the suggestion of Colonel Montgomery, three cheers were given for General Jackson, the hero of New Orleans.

THURSDAY, JANUARY [illegible]

THE DRY FARMING CONGRESS

A CALL has been issued for the third annual session of the Dry Farming Congress which is to be held in Salt Lake City on January [illegible] and to continue for a period of four days, which will be devoted to the discussion of all subjects throughout the Western Hemisphere [illegible] government [illegible] railroad [illegible] commercial [illegible] farmer [illegible] culture in [illegible] Missouri River [illegible] in the east.

[illegible] the most [illegible] to be rendered [illegible] Western farmer [illegible] practical [illegible] experience [illegible] Congressman [illegible] Nebraska [illegible] expert [illegible] Burbank of California [illegible] considerable success in his efforts to develop a spineless cactus which shall be valuable as stock food are expected to attend the meeting and address the delegates.

Irrigation has already taken political [illegible] the people especially in the West and it is certain to add perhaps hundreds [illegible] but the arts which irrigation has so successfully practiced are extremely limited. First of all there must be an unfailing water supply at a place where the physical conditions make it possible to use the water on the land. Almost as important is the factor of cost [illegible] the water supply [illegible] the land [illegible] product [illegible] irrigation is out of the question. But the supply of dry land capable of being irrigated but still looking only a proper means of cultivation to become highly productive is almost unlimited. The extent of country susceptible of redemption by the dry farming method is so infinitely greater than that to be reclaimed by irrigation that the success of the movement represented by this Congress means even more to the West than the work now being done by the Reclamation Service.

THE SECESSION ARMY.

UNLESS Congress or the War Department or the President or somebody else specially does something to encourage enlistments in the Army, and to persuade men to stay there after they enlist, the United States will soon find itself with a military force about on a par with that of some Central American republic. Conditions have been going from bad to worse since the close of the war with Spain. Before that conflict our Army was as small as it could well be and still serve its purpose as the nucleus of a volunteer force in time of war. It numbered about 25,000 men, but the reorganization bill passed by Congress and carried into effect by Elihu Root while he was at the head of the War Department [illegible] to not more than [illegible] deemed necessary to [illegible] in the Philippines, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, and on the forces at the various posts at home. But the limit permitted by law has never been approached, and the total armed force since the disbandment of the volunteer army has been about 42,000 officers and men.

This number would answer the purpose admirably if it could be maintained but it can't. The dull routine life of the soldier in these times of peace and prosperity appeals to the average able-bodied American citizen of good character as decidedly unattractive. Why should he serve Uncle Sam for $15 and his board and clothes when he can earn $3 a day at almost any kind of unskilled labor? That is the way it strikes the kind of men the Department wants, and they stay out.

NAVY HAS PLENTY OF RECRUITS

Since the beginning of the late panic thousands of men have been laid off work and as a ways happens under such conditions there has been an increase in the number of enlistments. [illegible] But curiously enough, few of those enlistments are for service in the Army, the [illegible] battleship fleet to the Pacific [illegible] service in the Navy, and that branch of the service—[illegible] most in need of men—the Army, has [illegible] nearly as many men as ever.

[illegible] that in our Army there are only [illegible] men, twenty-nine [illegible] enlisted this month, [illegible] the Navy, [illegible] their terms of enlistment [illegible] recruits are received on [illegible] will be for three years and another will have four [illegible] companies will have eleven and [illegible] men [illegible].

That the result is [illegible] of the greatest [illegible] world should be induced to such an [illegible] is decidedly humiliating. It [illegible] will speed [illegible] remains that the [illegible] and clothing and lump [illegible]

THE PACIFIC FLEET

From the London Spectator

It is natural that the politicians of Europe should regard the departure of the Pacific fleet for the Pacific with an interest not entirely devoid of uneasiness. The incident reveals to them clearly that the strength of the great republic which they have long since acknowledged is not merely potential but actual, that in other words she can send to any corner of the ocean fleet completely provided with all requisites for battle. That is a perfectly new revelation of the formidable strength which the republic can exert in any corner of the world, and justifies the claim of the union to be one of the great and active powers of the earth. The President may well look upon it with pride.

DECLINE IN LYNCHING.

From the Springfield Republican

The encouraging shrinkage in lynching during 1907 maintains the downward tendency noted in a few preceding years. The country has now come down to its 189 records in the sense that ever since there have the lynchings been so few. Efficiency in all becomes a comparatively comfortable exhibit yet it is nothing Americans can go abroad to boast of. What is the cause of the welcome decline. The best people who used to condone the lynchings are now beginning to realize that they breed anarchy and their influence is more and more felt in the communities where such things are most apt to occur.

THE LEADING WRECKER

From the New York World

The Seaboard receivership can be attributed only indirectly to anti railroad legislation in the south, the October panic or present money-market conditions. It is due chiefly to Thomas F. Ryan and his familiar methods of finance.

Mr. Ryan got control of the Seaboard four years ago. From that time he has played his regular game. There was the usual Ryan device of a holding company. One issue of securities followed another. The capital stock was watered up to $62,000,000 and the bonded indebtedness inflated to $58,000,000. Dividends were paid that had not been earned. Although the company's earnings last year increased $1,000,000, after the fixed charges on the watered capitalization had been paid, there remained a deficit. In the shape to which Mr. Ryan had reduced its affairs the concern could be kept afloat only by increasing its load of debt. Bankruptcy was as inevitable with Mr. Ryan's Seaboard as it was with Mr. Ryan's Metropolitan.

Within four months this eminent financier has placed two receiverships to his personal credit. He is the leading wrecker of the times. Even Mr. Harriman, with Mr. Alton looting, his dishonest stock-market tricks and his crooked [illegible] has sent none of his corporations into the hands of a receiver.

LITERATURE AND MOUNTAIN DEW

From the Baltimore Sun

In the vast mass of monodies threnodies thanatopses and elegies brought forth by the annihilation of the rum devil in Georgia we fail to note any reference to the probable effect of the water cure upon literature. Georgia like Indiana is a literary state and saving only cotton watermelons political preachers and orator literature is her chief product. Atlanta boasts more journeymen authors than ancient Athens and in every Georgian city there are grammarians dialecticians and poets innumerable.

Now it is deplorable but nevertheless true that the higher amenities of literary effort are apparently impossible on a diet of river or rain water. A vulgar journalist or American occasional may write along without much or any stimulation but to the writer of epics dramas rondeaux sonnets villanelles and romances a drop or two of mountain dew taken three times a day seems to be necessary. We say necessary but it will be observed that we qualify the term with the word seems. That is to say we have no wish to dogmatize the proposition as an absolute and inviolable law. We do not contend that it is founded upon irresistible physiological demands. All that we present to allege is the fact that history records the names of few literary men of the first magnitude whose voyages upon the water wagon could be regarded as more than transitory and speculative excursions.

Even old John Bunyan knew the point of a jest from the discharge of a cannon and William Shakespeare as everyone knows was quite a good man. When we come to Sir Richard Burton Francois Rabelais and Lord Byron the pages of history dump and give forth an alcoholic fragrance.

The effect of water upon the literature of Georgia will be watched with interest by pathologists critics and philosophers in all parts of the world. The experiment is of far more importance than that of Dr. Wiley with borax and government clerks. The supply of government clerks is always enormous and their sufferings alarming but poets are rare birds and the future of literature depends upon their welfare. No doubt many of those now living in Georgia will escape into Tennessee or Alabama and others it is probable will die at once but the majority, we believe will stick it out to the bitter end.

The ultimate result we hope will be the discovery that water is an efficient and sufficient tonic for even the most gigantic intellects. We anticipate that an entirely new school of literature will rise and that in the course of time connoisseurs will enjoy the unprecedented pleasure of reading a truly great drama by an entirely sober man.

THE KAISER'S GIFT

From the Boston Transcript

Smiles and now and then laughter will be remembered greeted the telling of the story of the kaiser's having thirteen hats to take from the royal coast from London. For tales come them pretty sad and others having a similar tale about them. Running on similar incidents have been current for many years the plot of all of them being based on the different views that monarchs could express on what makes for beauty and becomingness in ladies head gear. But in matters of dress in royal circles especially where the man in question is an emperor and such a master of fashion at this it is not easy to fancy his consort wife even daring to think a hat of his selection anything but perfect. She could though commend him for putting on his journey to the millinery establishments any number of hats decorated with [illegible] Perhaps his kaisership was chiefly mindful of the compliments Queen Alexandra has made to distinguish the wearing of hats etc in making his decision [illegible] may be that the kaiser's choice is decided [illegible] the unnecessary destruction of beautiful birds for the sake of their ornaments [illegible] the bird and [illegible] Audubon society [illegible] a powerful friend.

INLAND WATER WAYS CONTINUOUS COMMERCE

From the St. Louis Globe Democrat

If a fourteen-foot channel existed from the lakes and the sea by way of the Mississippi and the Illinois rivers the most of fine lake ships could seek their way southward and not a day be lost in their utilization. The lakes would be bought and consigned to tedious inaction while fully equipped for uninterrupted work which is not only more profitable but more preservative than doing nothing. For a thousand miles the lower Mississippi is never frozen. Between St. Louis and the mouth of the Ohio ice seldom gives trouble. Ice boats when needed could keep the channel open between the Mississippi and Lake Michigan. The Russians have a cast iron arctic harbor at Vladivostok by means of floating craft. If the lake ships could get out they would have the improved rivers and the seas as their commercial field. They could trade with the West Indies Central America or South America or when the isthmian canal is completed look over the Pacific for winter cruises. They would be in touch with two summers a year. Such fine ships and such fine crews should not be laid up in inactivity a third of the time.

SMITH VERSUS STANDARD OIL

From the Wall Street Journal

The general impression when the Standard Oil pamphlet was issued was that it had made out a pretty fair case for itself. It made it appear that it had been fined to an excessive amount for an offense which after all was merely technical and that as a matter of fact it had not in any real sense violated the interstate law in this case. The answer made by Commissioner Smith however completely turns the case against the Standard Oil company and confirms the statement recently published by the Wall Street Journal reviewing the Standard pamphlet. With a definiteness and clearness that can hardly be disputed Mr. Smith shows that the Alton rebating was by no means technical and that moreover it effectually established a monopoly for the Standard Oil company in the marketing of its product in the southwest by which it was enabled to make an enormous profit.

The Asiatics

Compared with the native [illegible] ted blacks the coolies from Asiatic India are extremely industrious. In fact it was due to the industry of the African that the Indians were brought to the New World. After the emancipation of the slaves in British Guiana in 1838 the blacks refused to work many of the plantations were abandoned the owners ruined. Then the British government introduced the Asiatics into the islands.

It strikes one curiously to see the sacred zebu of India grazing in fields near Port of Spain. Yet the Indians more than any other people add to the picturesqueness of the city.

Coming along the street is a Hottentot with a great sponge-like covering on his head. Other negroes from all parts of Africa can be found. Behind a booth where fruits of various kinds are piled in abundance is a woman who you can tell comes from Dutch Guiana. An ebony Venus her hair is long and glossy her eyes dark and bright her skin dark as walnut [illegible] flushed with color. She [illegible] sell the choicest of fruits her wares and [illegible]

But another thing appeals to you that seems [illegible] in the [illegible] tested kind [illegible] pictured [illegible] very rarely [illegible] except in Port of Spain. Yesterday we placed on sale between 250 and 300 pairs of men's trousers that were worth from $3.00 to $4.50. All day our store was filled with men who took advantage of this low price, many buying two and three pairs. The patterns of these are excellent and the fit splendid. Perhaps a pair of trousers is all you need to hold you over until the spring suits arrive.

WINS HONORS IN HARVARD

Carl A. Hedblom, Formerly of Colorado College, Is Awarded $275 by Faculty.

Carl A. Hedblom, Colorado College, '07, has just been awarded a prize of $275 by the faculty of the Harvard medical school. This prize is awarded annually to the student ranking highest at the end of the first term and is considered one of the greatest honors conferred by the university.

Dr. Schneider, head of the biological department at Colorado College, has recently returned from a conference of scientists in Chicago, where he met three Harvard professors, who spoke to him in terms of unstinted praise of the work, not only of Mr. Hedblom, but of all the graduates of Colorado College who are registered for professional courses in Harvard university. Much of the credit for this showing is due to the quality of instruction which these medical students receive in the departments of biology and chemistry, under Dr. Schneider and Professor Strieby.

Hedblom was one of the most prominent of the students in Colorado College during his four years' work here. He was captain of the football team, president of the senior class, and active in many other student interests. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

EASTERNERS DELIGHTED

HUNDREDS OF HOMESEEKERS ENJOY FINE CLIMATE.

Are Impressed With Beauty of Colorado Springs, and Many Will Locate Here.

Three hundred homeseekers from points in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, arrived in the city yesterday in special trains over the Rock Island and Rio Grande lines. In fact, the Rio Grande for the San Luis Valley, where they expect to make investments in land. The party will return next week to Colorado Springs for a stay of a week or two, their transportation having been extended to a time limit of 21 days.

In a special train of six cars, over the Rock Island, including sleepers and a dining car that was attached to the train after leaving Chicago, a delegation of 240 homeseekers arrived in the city yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remainder of the party came in on regular trains during the day.

Carriages in waiting conveyed the visitors to the Garden of the Gods and Cheyenne Canon, where they spent several hours in sightseeing. Upon their return, and after dinner at the Antlers and Alta, the homeseekers took an early evening train for Manitou, where the party will separate for the various destinations. Special sleeping cars were attached to the Denver and Rio Grande train for the accommodation of the party.

Before departing, the homeseekers arranged their transportation to secure a stay of a week or more in Colorado Springs, they having been very favorably impressed with the city during their brief stay here.

Voicing the sentiment of the party, Frank C. Holmes of Sioux City, Iowa, a retired capitalist, in conversing with a representative of The Gazette, said: "While we came to Colorado with the intention of investing in San Luis Valley land, I must say that from my limited observation of today that I am more than favorably impressed with Colorado Springs, and in the event that I do not find attractive opportunities in the southern part of the state, I will return to this city to locate permanently. Although people in the east are cognizant of the advantages of Colorado Springs as a summer resort, thousands of them coming here for the summer season, there are few, I believe, who have the slightest idea of the delightful winter climate that you have here. Such persons associate the close proximity of the mountains with an Arctic climate and are of the opinion that during the winter season the city is covered with ice and snow. Frankly, this visit has been a revelation to me, as you may believe when I tell you that I expect to return here with the view of locating permanently."

Thoroughly trained and highly skilled railway mechanics, foremen, mechanical engineers and draughtsmen are now being turned out in Pittsburg, Pa., by the school for apprentices, established and maintained by the New York Central lines at McKees Rocks.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

This is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

HAS MANY COMPLAINTS

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND THREW HER INTO GUTTER.

Also Gets Drunk, Strikes Her, Threatens Life and Hence She Wants Divorce.

For throwing the plaintiff with force from the sidewalk of a public thoroughfare into the gutter, thereby also for striking her violently on her shoulder.

This is one of the reasons why Mrs. Melissa K. Howey believes she is entitled to a divorce from her husband, Clyde G. Howey. There are many other [illegible] complaints, filed in the district court yesterday afternoon. The couple were married in Atchison, Kan., June 6, 1895, and their married life has been anything but blissful, according to the charges of Mrs. Howey.

Her husband has, she declares, threatened on many occasions, and in a angry and bold manner, to kill her, and these threats have kept her in constant fear for her safety. Furthermore, she says he has fraudulently converted to his own use her own earnings, which she had intrusted to him in the belief that he was investing the money in a home which they were jointly purchasing.

On Christmas day, 1904, Howey is alleged to have deserted his wife and to have departed from the state. Since that time he has contributed nothing to her support. In July, 1904, he is said to be a habitual drunkard, who, under the influence of liquor, made many threats of violence against his wife.

The specific grounds upon which she asks divorce and alimony are cruelty, nonsupport, desertion and habitual drunkenness.

In the county court, Joseph F. Willard, a Colorado City doctor, asked for a divorce of divorce from Bertie E. Willard, to whom he was married in 1902 in Howard, Kan. He accuses extreme cruelty.

PREFER AMERICAN EDUCATION

Argentine Commissioner Here to Get Pointers for Improving Republic's School.

Raoul B. Diaz, commissioner of education in the Argentine Republic, and Henry W. Cress, a student in Birmingham university, England, were in the city last night on the Atlantic lines for a brief rest before continuing the journey from New York to San Francisco.

With the view of incorporating American educational methods in the schools of the Argentine Republic, Senor Diaz is making an extended tour of the country gleaning facts from the universities and public schools. He declares that the system in force in the United States is superior to that of any other country, and that it sets a standard for others to emulate.

Mr. Cress is visiting the universities to establish a plan for an international interchange of students, the project to be backed by an endowment fund. By this system students from the universities of England and America will start or complete their courses in a foreign country, thus incorporating in their education the thought of other nations. Mr. Cress declares that such system will prove invaluable to the student, in that it not only enlarges his mental horizon but that it will equip him to cope with problems that may confront him in his future career.

The plan has met with the approval of President Hadley of Yale, President Eliot of Harvard, and others to whom it has been submitted.

GOOD ORE IS SHIPPED

SHIPMENT FROM THE SPECIMEN RUNS $40 TO TON.

Western Investment Company Successfully Working Several Leases in Cripple Creek.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 8.—The Western Investment company, which is working no less than 12 different leases in the district, and which during the year just ended made about $50,000 net, shipped out a car of ore yesterday from the Specimen claim on Bull hill, which belongs to the Stratton estate. This ore runs between $30 and $40 in gold to the ton, and is taken from a vein down from a nice looking vein about three feet wide. Stoping is being done as well as considerable development work.

This company is mining and shipping some good ore from the Morning Glory, on Raven hill. A vein between two and three feet wide has been uncovered at an approximate depth of 500 feet, and the values run very close to three ounces. Part of this block is subleased to Messrs. Thompson and Humphrey, who have ore varying from three to four feet wide and which runs from three to five ounces in gold to the ton.

FEW LEASES OPERATED

EL PASO PROPERTY SAID TO BE PRACTICALLY IDLE.

Terms to Lessees Regarded to Be Almost Prohibitive Good Money Made on Dump.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 8.—According to current report heard about the district, there are but few leases being operated on the El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company's properties on the west slope of Beacon hill, and some who have been favored under the "bonus" plan are about ready to relinquish what has been given them.

[illegible] in these [illegible] the El Paso mine was very carefully worked, and everything was about cleaned out during Mr. Bainbridge's term as superintendent for company account. This leaves but scant pickings for any who now go into the property. Practically every one who takes a lease on this property will have to do development work, and if ore is obtained they will have to mill it by prospecting for it.

The El Paso dumps were leased to Lessie Zollers. Mr. Zollers, it is believed, has the best chance on the mine for the reason that the ore will run from $11 to $20 in gold to the ton, and there is no buying of powder, fuse, paying for gasoline air drills, etc.

It is the general belief in Cripple Creek that the terms of the company will be changed, within a short time, if it is decided to go on under the leasing system. When the royalties are graduated, the terms exacted by the company are considered "so far prohibitive."

INSTALLING NEW MACHINERY

Friday Leasing Company Prepared to Develop Friday Claim of White City Property.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 8.—Phil Schalk, the manager of the Friday Leasing company, which is operating the Friday claim of the White City company, is now installing new machinery on the property. A new [illegible] and a new [illegible] plant will be put in at once. The boiler and engine will be of the [illegible] variety, at least 50-foot. This company has a force of six men employed and drifting on a vein both north and south from the shaft on the 50-foot level is in progress. It is believed that with a little work in the south drift, a junction of veins will be encountered. As is taken a couple of days ago indicated that the ore would run from $12 to $38 in gold to the ton. Some ore will be saved preparatory to a shipment, which, it is expected, will be made within the very near future. The Friday adjoins the Hoosier property on the west, on Tenderfoot hill.

ORE RUNS $30 TO TON

Four-Car Shipment From the Anchoria-Leland Property.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 8.—Whipp Brothers and Benton, who have a lease on the entire holdings of the Anchoria-Leland properties on the northeast [illegible] hill, [illegible] four cars yesterday. The ore will give average returns of $30 in gold to the ton. Most of the ore is being mined on the 500-foot level, where a shoot has been opened up for over 100 feet, and which is from four to six feet wide. Stoping is in progress on this shoot, and considerable development work is being done in other portions of the property. Some ore has been opened up below where present operations are being successfully conducted.

THE ORIGINAL

Foley & Co., Chicago originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. All dealers.

ADVANCE FALLS SHORT

FAILS TO MEET EXPECTATION OF SPECULATORS.

Some Natural Reaction in Stock Market Follows Backward Movement Moderate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Events today confirmed the doubts which began to manifest themselves yesterday as to the permanence of a present rise in stocks and they were practically abandoned. Some natural reaction followed with the selling out of disappointed speculators, who had bought in hopes of an extension of the advance, but the backward movement was moderate, measured by the vigorous previous buying and the advance. The action of the Northern Pacific directors in declaring only the regular quarterly dividends proved particularly disconcerting to a bull party in the speculation, which had advanced very bold claims for inside information of an intended distribution of 20 per cent in extra dividends.

The failure of these prophecies greatly discredited the claims on which this bull party has worked, which include intimations of encouragement and backing from important capital interest. The continuation of yesterday's rumors of an intended receivership for the Chicago Great Western caused misgivings of further damage to the sufferers from the financial crisis and the resulting reaction. The sympathetic effect of this news was most marked on stocks of companies supposed to be in a similar position. Financial [illegible] need, especially those with heavy temporary note obligations incurred during the past year, with a narrow margin of surplus earnings over fixed requirements, and heavy inroads upon the previous surplus of earnings caused by the business depression. Reports became current of offerings at a wide discount in the stock market of Erie one-year notes, on which $5,500,000 were issued to mature in the coming April. A $6,000,000 Rock Island issue underwent similar rumors about the same time.

The finances of the Southern railways offered sufficiently close analogy to include its stocks into the movement today.

The condition thus presented is general enough to have an influence on railroad securities as a whole. Railroad companies of first-class credit, as well as those lower in the scale, were drawn to temporary note issue last year and some maturities fall due soon during the present year. The issues were made on the intention of refunding or cash at the expiration of the period, but of refunding on longer time obligations as soon as the prohibitive interests asked have yielded. Such incidents as those which came into prominence today weaken the questions of the feasibility of raising new capital supplies in some of these cases, even in an easier condition of the money market. Rulling prices of some of the especially railroad note issues indicate a fault condition of credits, apart from the money market consideration. The large working demands for capital in fact constitute an important factor in the working out of the financial crisis. European markets, as well as our own, have shown their sensitiveness this week to announcements of new government loans.

It became known today that additional New York city revenue bonds had been sold to the syndicate which obtained an option on them at the time of previous subscriptions. A heavy volume of new securities also remains to be taken care of. Discouraging progress of industrial stocks is noted, but sentiment is easily affected by news of even a minor business embarrassment. The absence of prosecutions against financial offenders and notice from supervising authorities of exempt compliance with restrictions to be required are looked to as part explanation for the abstention from speculative activity of some previously conspicuous forces. An influence in the same direction is the new regulation soon to go into force for weekly statements of financial conditions to be made to the state banking department of the trust companies, as well as the state banks. Renewed intimations of the shaping of the government suit for dissolution of the Harriman railroad merger were weighed on these stocks. There was a turn against a short interest in American Sugar after the stockholders' meeting, and the market engaged a rally in some places with the upturn in that stock.

Bonds were quiet. Total sales, par value, $2,722,000. United States 4s, registered, advanced ¼, and the coupons ¼ per cent on call.

WHEAT MARKET WEAK

EUROPEAN DECLINE AFFECTS PRICES AT CHICAGO.

May Option Shows a Net Loss Close to One-Half Cent—Corn Market Weak.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The slack demand from exporters and further declines in the price of wheat at Liverpool [illegible] prices caused weakness today in the market, the May option showing a net loss of ⅞ at the close. Corn was down ¼@⅜; oats were ⅛ lower; provisions were 5@17½ lower.

The wheat market was weak all day, [illegible] the first half of the session, which was due to buying based on a parcel of liberal sales of the cash grain. As on the preceding day, several of the leading commission houses were free sellers, and there was also considerable selling by small holders. Excellent weather for harvesting in Argentine, lower prices for wheat at European markets and reports to the effect that export business was almost at a standstill, were the dominating influences. The market closed weak, May at one, a shade lower to a shade higher, at $1.00⅛@1.00⅛, sold up to $1.00⅝, and then declined to $1.00⅛. The close was at $1.00⅛@⅛. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 88,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 488,000 bushels, compared with 1,000,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago.

The corn market was weak because of the lower markets, big increased receipts, better local and at primary points. Additional reports were received today, forecasting a big increase in the movement to Chicago within the next week, and this seemed to have weakened the market. Early sales were the principal feature and selections were taken chiefly by commission houses. The market [illegible] at the lowest point of the day. May opened a shade lower, at 63@63½, sold at 63⅛@⅜, and then declined to 62⅞, where it closed. Local receipts were 164 cars, with none of contract grade.

Oats were dull and prices showed little change. The weakness in wheat and corn induced some liquidation. Free offerings were taken by pit traders, who were inclined to look for higher prices, owing to the bull movement and to a report of a demand from eastern buyers. May [illegible] at the close, at [illegible], which was a decline of [illegible] from yesterday's closing figures. Local receipts were [illegible] cars.

Provisions were weak in sympathy with grains, also local packers. Immense receipts of live hogs, involving a 50c decline, contributed to weakness. At the close May pork was off 5@7½c at $18.02½@18.05, and was down 15@17½c, $18.02½@18.05 were 5c lower, at $[illegible].

WHERE WOMEN ARE STRONGER

Among savage tribes the women are very little smaller than the men and have greater powers of endurance. Stanley found that the best porters in Africa were women, and an early explorer in the Northwest tells that before he started on a certain expedition an old chief advised him to take some squaws along to drag the baggage. Even among civilized nations girl babies exhibit more vitality than boys, a greater number of them coming safely through the perils of the first years, yet the civilized woman has only half as much physical strength as the civilized man.

RISING BREAST

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

LEAP YEAR COMING.

From the New York World.

"I am looking for information," said an energetic little woman approaching Policeman Phillips in the corridor of the city hall on Saturday.

"I can tell you anything that you want to know," replied Phillips, who has been on the force 35 years.

"Oh, I'm so glad," exclaimed the woman. "When does the law that you must get out a marriage license go into effect?"

"The law takes effect January 1," replied the policeman.

"What does a marriage license cost?"

"Only one dollar."

"That's good," replied the woman; "I'm so happy."

"May I ask you why you are happy?"

"Certainly; next year is leap year, you know."

"There were 40,000 marriages in 1906," [illegible] Phillips, as the woman walked away, "and there will be a revenue to the city of $40,000, if not more, during 1908."

LOEB AND GOV. FOLK'S DOUBLE

Washington Dispatch to the New York World.

"I didn't know Governor Folk was in town," said a Missouri visitor to the White House offices today, "and I didn't know he was raising a mustache."

"Neither guess is right," said a newspaper man, who knows Folk.

"I saw him go in there now," said the Missourian, pointing to secretary Loeb's door. He was told that the man he had seen enter was Mr. Loeb himself. The Missourian's mistake was pardonable. Loeb shaved off his mustache not long ago, and his resemblance to Governor Folk came at once apparent and somewhat startling. They are about of the same height and of the same [illegible] and manners the two are as like as twins. [illegible] Loeb is [illegible]

MARRIES IOWA MAN

Miss Katharine C. Brown Becomes Bride of C. W. Davison.

The marriage of Miss Katharine C. Brown of this city and Curtis W. Davison of Des Moines, Ia., took place Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. C. Colburn, 1826 Wood avenue, the Rev. James H. Franklin, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Only a small number of relatives and friends were witnesses of the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. Davison left soon after the wedding supper for the east, and will make their home in Des Moines, Ia.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs and colds and for every diseased condition of throat, chest or lungs," says W. F. Henry of Panama, Mo. The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stages of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at all druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

BURNS IS AFTER M'CARTHY

Springs Millionaire Wants Scalp of Mines Inspector.

Thomas M. J. McCarthy, state mine inspector of mines for the Cripple Creek district, made a report on the condition of the National mine, complaining to the former management of James F. Burns, the latter has preferred charges of malfeasance in office and has dominated McCarthy's removal. Burns yesterday sent a formal demand upon Attorney General W. H. Dickson to take such action as proves necessary to remove McCarthy.

Burns bases his charges upon the fact that McCarthy, last October, made a private report to State Commissioner of Mines T. J. Duizell, in which he commented favorably upon the present administration and pointed out faults in the management during Burns' presidency. It is further charged that this comparison does not appear in the official report of the inspector.
